

WE TREAT MACULAR DEGENERATION WITH EVERYTHING WE'VE GOT.

The AIO retina service consists of board-certified ophthalmologists who focus a full complement of advanced vision treatments and state-of-the-art technology on combating vision problems. From the latest medications and non-invasive techniques to corrective surgery, advanced laser procedures and leading-edge therapies developed by the AIO clinical research team, you can expect true visionary eye care.

Painless Treatment Options: Our experienced retina surgeons are skilled in a variety of painless, non-invasive and minimally invasive procedures.

Medical Treatments: Our doctors select from the most effective drugs on the market to treat AMD, such as inhibitor injections that prevent the unwanted growth of tiny vessels in the macula that leak and interfere with vision. They also monitor the development of new medical treatments and incorporate them into each patient's customized treatment plan.

Micro-Incision Vitrectomy Surgery (MIVS): Our surgeons are experienced and skilled in advanced micro-incision surgery. The small-incision, no-stitch surgery is gentle on the eye, increases postoperative comfort and promotes a faster visual recovery.

Nutritional Supplements: Maintaining the right daily levels of clinically proven nutrients is a simple yet effective means to slow the progress of macular degeneration. In fact, AIO has developed its own customized formula of nutritional supplements.

Laser Therapy: A painless, effective method performed right in the office. Often combined with a simple injection or medication, laser therapy can successfully slow the progress of macular degeneration.

Clinical Research Trials: Our surgeons participate in and monitor the latest developments in vision care, allowing them to access the most advanced treatments available.

It's time to take advantage of everything we've got for keeping your vision the best it can be. Call today to schedule your appointment with one of macular degeneration's worst enemies.
